

CURRICULUM VITAE

Kang-i Sun Chang 孫康宜

Kang-I Sun Chang: Short Bio

- Kang-i Sun Chang (孫康宜), the inaugural Malcolm G. Chace '56 Professor of East Asian Languages and Literatures at Yale University, is a scholar of classical Chinese literature, with an interest in literary criticism, comparative studies of poetry, gender studies, and cultural theory/aesthetics.

The Chace professorship was established by Malcolm “Kim” G. Chace III '56, “to support the teaching and research activities of a full-time faculty member in the humanities, and to further the University’s preeminence in the study of arts and letters.”

Chang is the author of The Evolution of Chinese Tz’u Poetry: From Late Tang to Northern Sung; Six Dynasties Poetry; The Late Ming Poet Ch’en Tzu-lung: Crises of Love and Loyalism; and Journey Through the White Terror. She is the co-editor of Writing Women in Late Imperial China (with Ellen Widmer), Women Writers of Traditional China (with Haun Saussy), and The Cambridge History of Chinese Literature (with Stephen Owen). Her translations have been published in a number of Chinese publications, and she has also authored books in Chinese, including Wenxue jingdian de tiaozhan (Challenges of the Literary Canon), Wenxue de shengyin (Voices of Literature), Zhang Chonghe tizi xuanji (Calligraphy of Ch’ung-ho Chang Frankel: Selected Inscriptions), Quren hongzhao (Artistic and Cultural Traditions of the Kunqu Musicians), and Wo kan Meiguo jingshen (My Thoughts on the American Spirit). Her current book project is tentatively titled, “Shi Zhecun: A Modernist Turned Classicist.”

At Yale, Chang is on the affiliated faculty of the Department of Comparative Literature and is also on the faculty associated with the Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program. She has served as chair of the Department of East Asian Languages and Literatures and Director of Graduate Studies.

Her numerous honors include two A. Whitney Griswold Awards and a Faculty Fellowship from the Whitney Humanities Center, a Morse Fellowship from Yale, an ACLS

Fellowship in Chinese Studies, and a Whiting Fellowship in the Humanities. In February 2012, she was awarded the DeVane Medal for excellence in undergraduate teaching and scholarship by the Yale Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. In April 2015, she was elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Chang has been an invited speaker at many universities and conferences throughout the United States, as well as in Canada, Sweden, the Czech Republic, Korea, Hong Kong, Taiwan, and China.
